1919

OFG Financial Services began as Columbian Securities in Topeka, KS. It primarily functioned as a major bond house.

1950s

In addition to bonds, Columbian Securities started offering mutual funds through its mutual fund department.

1969

KSTA (formerly Kansas State Teachers Assoc.) endorsed Security Benefit and Columbian Securities to be the plan provider of 403(b) retirement plans for school districts. They were also selected to educate school employees on financial literacy. This set-in motion the close relationship with both Security Benefit and Kansas schools.

1970
